SOVIET ARMY STRENGTH

French Press Estimates

Paris, Aug. 27. The military correspondent of the "Petit Journal" gives a comprehensive review of the military strength of the Soviet Union, and comes to the conclusion that the Soviet Union's military strength far exceeds that of any other European country, thus incidentally correcting the figures published in some Paris papers about the German Army after the prolongation of the service period. According to Lt. Col. Magne, the Soviet Union at present has 1.3 million men under colour, and 10 million well trained men in reserve. She possesses 4,500 military airplanes and the same number of tanks, and among the planes are some immense machines capable of carrying whole companies of soldiers.

In short, Magne states, the Soviet Union has the appropriate equipment relative to its strength, since the technical efficiency has been greatly developed through the Five Years Plan. In addition Russia is in possession of all raw materials required for a modern war, such as oil, wheat, cotton. It would be childish to deny Russia's military powers, notwithstanding many an unknown factor, the article concludes.—Transocean News Service.

AUSTRO-GERMAN AGREEMENT

Vienna, Aug. 27. Unanimous joy prevails in the Austrian press at the signing of the Austro-German Travel Finance and Economic Agreement. The "Reichspost" declares that the first results are very promising for the future. The paper adds that the agreement will prove a blessing for both states, if the spirit in which the agreement negotiations were conducted, continues to govern the relations between the two German states.

The "Wiener Neuste Nachrichten" asks the Austrian people to receive with open arms the tourists from the Reich after years of enforced separation, who are coming to be again with their old Austrian friends and relatives.—Transocean News Service.

TOURIST CONCESSION

Berlin Aug. 27. The foreign exchange restrictions which had existed between Germany and Austria, have been greatly modified. German tourists are allowed to take out of Germany to Austria a maximum of 250 marks for each month of stay in Austria. It had originally been intended to permit 500 marks, but as the travelling to Austria is so great, the sums would have mounted too high so it was reduced to 250 marks.—Transocean News Service.

BRITAIN MAY HAVE A NICKEL COIN

The question of introducing a nickel coin valued at threepence into the new Edward VIII coinage is being considered. "The Evening News" learns, by the Bank of England and the Royal Mint.

The change, if it takes place, will bring Great Britain into line with most other countries, and would mean a big reduction in the number of coppers in circulation. The present three penny-piece is unpopular (except in Scotland). The new nickel would be about the same size as a sixpenny piece.

The principal opponents of the change are the proprietors of pen-

GERMAN AFRICA LINES

Windhuik Launched

Hamburg, Aug. 27. The 16,000-ton liner Windhuik built for the South Africa service of the German Africa Lines, was launched here on Thursday. The new ship, was christened by the Governor of Bavaria, General Ritter von Epp, in the presence of many distinguished guests, among whom was the former Governor of German South West Africa, Dr. Seitz.

The Windhuik, which is the second of a pair of large new liners for this service—the Pretoria was launched in July—in view of the rapidly growing trade between Germany and South Africa, will enter service next March, while the sistership Pretoria will proceed on her maiden voyage to Cape Town on December 19.

In his christening speech, General Ritter von Epp referred to the friendly relations existing between Germany and the South African Union, and expressed gratification that the growing trade between the two countries had necessitated the building of the two ships.

The Windhuik has passenger accommodation for 500 and a speed of 18 knots, which will permit her to accomplish the journey from the Channel to Cape Town in 15 days.—Transocean News Service.

GENERAL PUTNA ARRESTED

To Be Tried For Espionage

London, Aug. 27. The arrest in Moscow of the Soviet Russian Military Attaché in London, General Putna, caused considerable sensation here, particularly in view of the circumstances under which it took place.

Two days before the General had been urgently summoned to Moscow under the pretext that his presence there at a military conference was required. The paper "Evening News" had published a report that two members of the O.G.P.U. had searched all private correspondence and documents of the Soviet Russian Embassy, and that Russian agents had tried to gain information of the London Russian émigrés, whether General Putna had received visitors from the Continent. It is stated that the General will probably be tried on the grounds of military espionage.—Transocean News Service.

RUNAWAY BALLOON

Warsaw, Aug. 27. The Polish balloon Kattawice, which is to take part in the Gordon Bennett Race which takes place on Sunday, made a somewhat premature start Thursday, when it flew away by itself. The balloon was being filled with gas, when the net attaching it to the gondola, broke, and a strong wind carried the balloon away, and in the oncoming darkness the runaway direction appeared in the southwest direction.—Transocean News Service.

ENGINEERING AND BUILDING
MACHINERY AND THE NATION

Serious Gaps In Manufacture
Should Be Filled

CONTROL NECESSARY

To speak about machinery and the nation requires little or no excuse, because if you imagine for one moment that this country of ours had all its existing potential sources of food and raw materials to support human life on a considerable scale and at a high standard and you then deprived the nation of all its machinery, in a very short space of time the nation would revert to a semi-barbaric existence and the country would only support three or four millions of people. That is the significance of machinery in modern life stated Mr. D. A. Bremner, O. B. E., in a recent address to the British Engineers' Association.

Now machinery, being such an essential factor in the support of anything like a good standard of living in the nation, is necessarily a very important factor, not only in peace but in war. The peace manufacture of machinery is stimulated, directed and controlled by purely economic and commercial considerations. But the manufacture or the availability of machinery in war time is a very different matter. There are certain kinds of machinery for which you dare not be dependent on any foreign power. In these cases, therefore, the purely economic and commercial considerations do not prevail. You must have that machinery regardless, within any reasonable limit, of whether it is profitable to manufacture it or not. The argument is sometimes used that we are in any event so dependent upon imported foodstuffs and imported heat energy in the form of liquid fuels, that it is really no use worrying about machinery or making any effort to be less dependent on imported supplies. That is a counsel of despair. Surely it is the duty of all to reduce the already very large unfavourable chances of war to the lowest possible minimum. Let us make efforts in any direction we can. We do not want to encourage the attitude of dependence on foreign supplies more than the facts of the situation absolutely dictate to us.

IN WAR TIME

In my opinion, if we do many of the things which it is quite possible for us to do in the way of developing our machinery manufacture, we shall automatically and incidentally have done a great deal towards fitting ourselves to supply the machinery required in war time. Therefore we can for our immediate purpose direct our attention to the manufacture of machinery in peace time. In order that there may be no legitimate misapprehensions or criticisms of my remarks, I wish to say that I do not for one moment suggest any such wild idea as that we or any other nation should aim at 100 per cent. self-sufficiency in the invention, design and manufacture of machinery. It is not only impossible but it is very doubtful if it would be desirable. We are not always at war, for one thing. The decisive consideration is that we find distributed over the various civilised countries of the world a vast amount of inventive genius, a capacity for design and resources for the development of perfectly wonderful machinery. 100 per cent. self-sufficiency is not a thing desirable or a thing to aim at.

SERIOUS GAPS

Having made that reservation, I now say that there are very great and very serious gaps in our machinery manufacture which, to the best of my knowledge, and judgment, can and should be filled. I have here a few figures to which I crave your attention; they provide the structure on which my arguments are based. Our imports and exports of machinery in 1935 had a value of 13,144,000 and 38,495,000 respectively. The value of the imports therefore amounted to no less than 34 per cent. of the value of the exports. In other words, for every £ received for exports we spent about 38, 10d. on imports.

Remember the very serious national emergency consideration that even if you are equipped for the manufacture on a large scale of machinery which you can export at an average of 100 per ton, as compared with 180 per ton for the imported machinery, you are not ready, and are not equipped and neither have you the manual skill to cope with the demands of modern warfare. That leads us to personnel and there you have the questions of education, training and apprenticeship. Here the present difficulty is that, when a man has been expensively educated and trained and has expended great mental labour in acquiring knowledge of his profession, he cannot be sure of a reasonable prospect and security of enjoying an income commensurate with his attainments.

HIGH-CLASS MACHINERY

Surely, the obvious and, in fact, the only way of providing greatly increased skilled employment in the engineering professions and trades is to manufacture ourselves the largest possible amount of the kinds of high-class machinery we now import, and by so doing to add materially to the national security in time of emergency.

The next thing is the organisation of the machinery manufacturing trade, which needs something worthy of the name of organisation. There should be a concerted policy, taking account of the future trend of manufacture, conducted on sensible lines worthy of the class of brains engaged in this great technical industry of engineering.

What would be the use of half a dozen firms simultaneously starting to make a new machine the market for which could be satisfied by one of them? All would be disgusted and would lose their money. Unless there is some control, consultation and agreement regarding development, worse difficulties than the present will follow. It is true that you cannot have only one organisation for engineering in this country. There must be separate organisations, each to deal with its own affairs, in the various departments of the industry, but they should be federated so that the industry could speak with greater authority and the collective wisdom of the industry be represented. At present, engineering has not got the organisation of which it is worthy, and which it should have.

NEW POWER STATION
IN HOLLAND

Description Of Plant

The electric power supply in the Province of Gelderland, which occupies a large area in the centre of Holland, south of the Zuider Zee, is provided by the Gelderland Electric Power Company, the Provinciale Geldersche Electriciteits Maatschappij. This company has recently built a new power station at Nijmegen, which is situated in the south of the area, on the River Waal, and not far from the German frontier.

A power station containing two 500-kW sets was erected by the Municipality of Nijmegen in 1908, and was transferred to the power company in 1921, since which time it has been extended to a total capacity of 50,000 kW. With gradual increase in the consumption of electricity in Gelderland, this extended station approached its maximum possible output, and in 1933 the company decided to build a new station in the same town, planned for an ultimate capacity of 400,000 kW. The first section of this new station was officially opened by a Member of the Dutch Cabinet recently.

The station, which is situated alongside the River Waal, at the junction of the Maas-Waal Canal with the river, has been equipped with plant of an initial capacity of 100,000 kW, but the buildings erected in connection with this first section will permit of the installation of 200,000 kW of plant.

As already mentioned, the site allows of the ultimate construction of a station of twice this latter capacity. A harbour or lay-by has been built on the south side of the site, making open connection with the Maas-Waal Canal, and coal supplies will be brought to the station by water, the vessels unloading direct from the harbour to the coal store. Condensation water is drawn from and discharged to the canal. The station contains four 25,000-kW turbo-alternators, supplied with steam at 30 atm. (423 lb. per sq. in.) and deg. C. (824 deg. F.), and generating three phase current at 10,000 volts. Each alternator is direct-coupled to a 10/50-kV step-up transformer. The 50-kV sides of the transformers are connected by cable to an outdoor switching and distribution station lying parallel with the engine-room.

FUSION-WELDED

The station is at present equipped with four Babcock and Wilcox

boilers constructed by Messrs. Gebr. Stork and Company, of Hengelo, Holland, the drums, which are of the fusion-welded type having been made by Messrs. Babcock and Wilcox at Renfrew. Each boiler has a normal output of 85 tons of steam per hour, a maximum continuous capacity of 112 tons, and an overload capacity of 120 tons. The boilers operate at a steam pressure and temperature of 39.5 atm. (565 lb. per sq. in.) and 450 deg. F. As already mentioned, the pressure and temperature at the turbines are 423 lb. and 824 deg. F. It was considered good practice, with modern materials, not to exceed a temperature of 842 deg. F. at the boiler stop valve, and this figure fixed the temperature at the turbine inlet at 824 deg. F. As it was desired that the percentage of water in the steam at exhaust should not exceed 10 per cent., the steam pressure at inlet, having regard to the temperature previously decided on, was fixed at 423 lb. per square inch. The relatively large fall of pressure between the boiler stop valve and the turbine inlet at full load followed from the determination to keep the main pipes of the superheated steam range as small as possible. No high-pressure steam pipe is larger than 250 mm. (10 in.) in diameter.

Tao sun-tsoh, chauffeur, Ching Tse-poh, chauffeur, and Foo Tse-youn, office clerk, were each fined $15 in the First District Court yesterday on the charge of employing threats and committing violence against Sikh police constable Bli Singh on Nanking Road on Monday morning.

TROTSKY UNDER GUARD

Moscow Trial Reactions

Oslo, Aug. 27.
Trotzki is being guarded day and night by the Norwegian police, and his presence is a subject of great interest to the Scandinavian Press.

The police guard was ordered, when it was reported from the central passport office that Trotzki was not holding his promise not to be politically active as long as he stayed in Norway. The Chief of Police thereupon gave him the option to leave Norway, or not to take any part whatever in politics. Trotzki thereupon signed the pledge. His mail is now to be censored, and every action watched by the police.

The Trotzki affair is becoming more important in Norway, in view of the General Elections, in which the Radical Workers Party, composed of Communists, Social Democrats, which is now in charge of the Government, will attempt to gain the few more seats necessary for an absolute majority.

IRISH BRIGADE FOR SPAIN

Dublin, Aug. 27.
Following an appeal of General O'Duffy, leader of the Irish Blue Shirts for the formation of an Irish Volunteer Corps to assist the Spanish Insurgents, 5,000 men are stated to have reported for service. The Secretary of the United Ireland party declared, however, that the Volunteers will travel to Spain not equipped with weapons.

AN EPIDEMIC OF LIVER DISORDER

By Dr. Quignon of the Faculty of Medicine, Paris

Just now I am kept very busy by an epidemic of "liver" disorders—a great many people feeling "out of sorts," bilious, depressed and unable to enjoy their food. Undoubtedly the best remedy for an upset liver is provided by certain famous Continental Mineral Springs, but science has now made it possible for all liver sufferers to enjoy, in their homes all the benefits of Continental Spa treatment, at little cost. By reproducing in crystalline form the essential principles of seven world renowned Spas, including those at Vichy, Carlsbad, Aix-les-Bains and Marienbad, "Alka Saltrates" provides what is probably the finest liver tonic and corrective known. It is obtainable from all high class Dispensaries and Stores.

To men and women who are feeling liverish and "out of sorts," and to those who are suffering from Rheumatism, Lumbago, Kidney trouble and High Blood Pressure, I can recommend "Alka Saltrates" with confidence and I advise them to start the treatment without delay.

SPANISH BISHOPS TO VISIT ROME

Rome, Aug. 27.
All Spanish Bishops who succeeded in leaving Spain will shortly be received in audience by Pope Pius XI at the Papal summer residence castle, Gandolfo. The Pope, during the audience, will deliver an address, in which he will emphatically protest against the destruction of Church property and other crimes committed by the Spanish Reds.
It is stated that His Holiness has declared that the time has now come to leave the present reserve, and make an open declaration against those who have written the destruction of the Church on their banner.

ZEPPELIN SERVICE TO S. AMERICA

Berlin, Aug. 27.
A weekly Zeppelin service will be inaugurated to South America on October 21, instead of the fortnightly service as hitherto. The airship Hindenburg is to be put on this service, as soon as three more journeys to North America are over. From October 21 until December 2, the Graf Zeppelin and the Hindenburg will alternately leave Frankfurt Aerodrome every Wednesday, landing in Rio de Janeiro the following Sunday. The return voyage will take place from Santa Cruz airport near Rio, starting on the following Wednesday or Thursday.

WIRELESS AID TO DETECT STORMS

Hamburg, Aug. 27.
On board the steamer Hagen an interesting discovery was made: that it is possible, with the help of the ship's amplifier, to discover the direction and movement of storms. Thunderstorms release electric waves so that the ship's wireless has now another task imposed upon it; to detect the existence of storms and locate them, so that the safety of craft and passengers can still further be secured.

MADRID PRISON ATROCITIES

Berlin, Aug. 27.
A particularly bloody account of atrocities in Madrid prisons was related by a special reporter of the Berlin "Nacht Ausgabe," who states that in the main prison, hundreds are shot daily.
A mass execution of all prisoners in the main prison and about 1,200 aristocrats was planned to have taken place on Saturday, and the proceedings directed by a special committee. But the British Minister discovered the plot and informed the Spanish Foreign Minister, who intervened, whereupon a special tribunal was formed, which pronounced death sentences on 250 persons on Saturday and 480 on Sunday, these being carried out on the spot.

"And NOW — I'm strong and healthy again!"

"Some time ago I was always feeling tired. I grew very weak and got no pleasure out of life. Then a friend advised me to take Sanatogen and look at me now! I am fit and vigorous again and feel thoroughly happy."

That world-famous Medical Paper, "The Lancet," writes about the strengthening influence of Sanatogen:

"There is abundant evidence of the value of Sanatogen as a restorative and food, and more particularly in cases of general debility."

When you do not feel so well, start taking Sanatogen. Every chemist sells it and Sanatogen will soon make you thoroughly strong and healthy again, full of youthful vitality.

GERMAN ADMIRAL'S MESSAGE

Berlin, Aug. 27.

The Commander-in-Chief of the German Navy, General-Admiral Dr. H. C. Raeder, expressed special recognition for the services performed by the ships now returning from Spain.

In a radiogram flashed to the ships, he says:

"I know that the best reward for the responsible and arduous service is in the knowledge that thousands of German fellow citizens and thousands of citizens of other nationalities were enabled to leave their places of residence which were endangered by the sanguinary civil war."

MAJESTIC

SUNDAY—"PETTICOAT FEVER"
30TH with Robert Montgomery, Myrna Loy

Presented By Queen Victoria
Colours Deposited In Fort George Depot

An impressive ceremony took place on August 9 at Fort George when the old colours of the 2nd Battalion Seaforth Highlanders, which were presented to the regiment in 1859 by Queen Victoria, were deposited in the garrison church.

A year ago King Edward, then Prince of Wales, presented the regiment with a new standard of colours, and it was decided to put the former colours in the church at the depot.

The church was crowded, and among those present were former officers and men of the regiment. The service was conducted by the Rev. William Graham.

Before delivering the colours in to the custody of the garrison church, Lieutenant-Colonel J. L. Laurie, D.S.O., stated that the King, when Prince of Wales, in presenting new colours, said the former colours were unique in that they were carried during part of the South African War, the Great War, and lately on the North-West Frontier of India.

"A MESSAGE TO GARCIA"

Thrilling Moments and Exciting Climax

The plain facts behind this film showing at the King's and Alhambra Theatres are authentic. During the Spanish-American War Lieutenant Rowan did carry a vital dispatch through swamps, jungle, and enemy territory and delivered it successfully to the Cuban forces; but because the film has been developed in a typically "Hollywood" manner, and embellished with a thoroughly unconvincing love interest.

The picture has that pace, feeling for brisk, exciting action, and sense of the dramatic that marks every film good or mediocre, produced by Darryl Zanuck. But it contains too many departures from fact—too many additions for the sake of comedy and sentiment; and the inclusion of another main character, the renegade Sergeant Dory, played by Wallace Beery, draws attention away from the personality and exploits of Rowan, which should have been the dominating interests of the story.

The best thing in the picture is the story-telling, which makes the most of the thrilling moments and provides an exciting climax.

There is also a very effective swamp scene, in which Rowan and Dory cross a crocodile-infested stream at the risk of their lives. Of the cast, John Boles, who does not sing a note, is best because he is most natural. Wallace Beery, as Dory, gives a typical study of an underworld rat with a heart of gold—efficient but entirely unreal; and Barbara Stanwyck is able to be no better than attractively synthetic as the girl—"Rekkit."

"FORGOTTEN FACES"

Drama with emotional powerful is offered in "Forgotten Faces," the new Paramount picture which opened yesterday at the Star Theatre.

Herbert Marshall is the star of the picture, and lovely blonde Gertrude Michael plays opposite him. The story tells of Marshall, a devoted husband and father, deeply in love with his wife—Miss Michael—and almost worshipping where his baby daughter is concerned.

"Forgotten Faces" offers one of those rare, dramatic pieces of entertainment whose suspense is truly gripping. The acting is perfect and in addition to the two leads, special credit is due Jane Rhodes, as the grown-up daughter; Robert Cummings, as her fiancé; and James Burke, as Marshall's police-sergeant friend.

He was looking for a quiet place to park his car, and, seeing a side street, turned into it, drew up, put the brake on, and was walking off when a policeman appeared.

"You can't leave your car there!"

"Why not? It's a quiet spot."

"I tell you, you can't leave it there."

"But, my good man, it is a 'quiet-de-see'."

"I don't care if it's a Rolls-Royce—bring it out!"

HONG KONG RIFLE ASSOCIATION

Clubhouse To Be Erected Forthwith

STRONG FINANCIAL POSITION DISCLOSED

A Meeting of the Council of the Hong Kong Rifle Association was held last evening at the Hong Kong Hotel, when the following members were present:—

Major R. D. Walker, M.C. (President), in the chair: Messrs. C. A. Grimes (Vice-President), A. C. Ford, Y. S. Wan, W. R. Scott, J. D. Pattullo, E. D. Wilson, A. Urquhart, W. R. Chester-Woods, W. Austin, T. G. Stokes (Hon. Treasurer) and Major D. H. Steers, O.B.E., R.E. (Hon. Secretary).

After the minutes of the last meeting had been read and confirmed, the financial position of the Association at the end of its first shooting season was discussed. It was pointed out that the "Bisley" Meeting ended with a moderate balance in favour of the Association, and that further sources of revenue were obtained from the sale of Score Books and rifle accessories, while the advertisement revenue from the Association's monthly "Bulletin" not only paid for all expenses in connection with the usual weekly Spoon and Practice Shoots, but totalling such an amount as to enable a contribution to be made to the Building Fund. The Interim Balance Sheet disclosed a profit on the year's working of nearly $3,000, and it was announced that an anonymous donor had offered a contribution of $500 to the Building Fund in connection with the proposed Clubhouse, providing the work was put in hand at once, and that he had also guaranteed a further sum of a similar amount by the New Year. Other donations in addition were likely to be forthcoming in the near future. The members of the Council were unanimously in favour of a contract being entered into forthwith for the erection of this building, and a Building Sub-Committee was formed to make all necessary arrangements towards this end, the members appointed being:—

Mr. C. A. Grimes (Vice-President), Mr. T. G. Stokes (Hon. Treasurer) and Major D. H. Steers (Hon. Secretary).

It was decided that the Annual Dinner should be held this year, as soon as mourning for His late Majesty had terminated.

The Hon. Secretary reported that the publication and distribution of copies of the Year-Book had now been completed, and the President paid a tribute to the work of the Hon. Secretary, who had compiled this book.

The affiliation of the Hong Kong Naval Volunteer Force was formally approved under the terms agreed to by both bodies, and which have already been incorporated in the Rules now appearing in the Year-Book.

A proposal to alter the financial year from January-December to September-August was not approved, but it was agreed that new members joining between September 1st and December 31st would be regarded as having paid their subscription until December 31st of the year following.

A letter was read from H.E. Commander-in-Chief, China Fleet, stating that it was his desire that the Fleet should participate in the Prize Meeting to be held in 1937.

It was decided to hold the 1937 Prize Meeting at the end of March, 1937.

The Hon. Secretary reported that several applications for individual full membership had been received during the last few days, and that the usual Spoon and Practice Shoots would re-commence on Wednesday, September 16th.

It was agreed that the N.R.A. "Overseas" Match should be fired on a day and range to be selected by the Captain of Shooting between October 1st and November 30th, 1936.

The offer by S. M. Faro, R.E. of a silver tankard and souvenir was gratefully accepted and it was decided that the conditions of shooting should be decided by Mr. Grimes and the Hon. Secretary.

The matter of the publication of a Score-Book, with three targets per page, enabling the owner to fire the complete shoot on one sheet, was discussed, and it was agreed to defer this matter for further consideration.

DOUBT

Doubt steals upon the happy heart like night steals on the skies—blots out the light of faith until the radiant vision dies—Doubt spreads its poison through the mind, and will destroy at last—the future and the present and the good things of the past... Doubt is the enemy of Love, then cast it out, and trust—for Doubt will kill your fairest dreams and bring them to the dust—Suspicion gathers as it goes, upon its deadly way—and Life becomes a wilderness, unfriendly, bleak and grey... Look up and trust, in spite of what your human eyes can see—Defy the evil powers that would destroy sweet harmony—Doubt comes to tempt the faithful and disturb their precious peace—the struggle will continue till the game of Life shall cease... Be not confused with argument, look deep into your heart—Seek for the Truth within yourself, then dare to stand apart, and shield yourself with valiant faith that nothing can assail—believing in the promise—for His Love shall never fail.

YOUNG GIRL ABDUCTED

Taken To Country To Marry

KEPT WOMAN GAOLED

Serious Case

Chan Puk Yung, a woman aged 30, was sentenced by Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court yesterday, to six months' hard labour for procuring a girl under 21 to have improper relationship with a youth aged 18, and with the abduction of the girl against the will of her parents.

The defendant said that the girl Lee Kee, 15, approached her, asking for a young boy's hand in marriage. She found her a youth, Wong Wan, 18, and as they were willing to be married she took them to the country.

Regarding the second charge, all she had to say was that the girl was perfectly willing to leave her parents, nor did she know who they were.

The prosecution stated that on April 17 the girl was reported missing. Nothing was heard of her until August 22, when her uncle saw her at Tai Ping.

Lee Kee's mother went there the next day, and saw her with the boy's parents, and, apparently, she was living with the boy in the house.

The accused was formerly in the employ of Lee Kee's family in the capacity of amah. She had taken the girl away on August 17, and with the young boy, went to Tai Ping.

Defendant was a kept woman of Lee Kee's father, and she knew the family well.

Under cross-examination, she admitted knowing the parents of the young girl, but that was some ten years ago.

In passing sentence, the magistrate remarked that it was a serious matter.

HUSBAND TRIES TO SHIELD WIFE

Jewellery Theft Alleged

COUPLE CONVICTED

A man and his wife appeared at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court yesterday for alleged complicity in the theft and receiving of gold jewellery to the value of $200.

The woman, Pun King-sin, was bound over in the sum of $20 to keep the peace for one year, while the husband, Chan Wai-yan, was fined $10 with the option of one month's imprisonment.

Det. Sergt. MacPherson, who prosecuted, said that Lo King, the sister of the defendant, arrived in the Colony from the country to visit Pun King-sin. She found her jewellery missing one morning, and reported it to the authorities.

The sister was arrested on suspicion and charged with the theft. After questioning, she admitted that she had given the jewellery to her husband, Chan Wai-yan.

Although the husband said that he did not know what was in the package, Mr. Himsworth was not inclined to believe his story, and said that he was merely trying to shield his wife.

COLONEL LINDBERGH'S "ROBOT HEART"

The fourth International Congress of Experimental Cytology at Copenhagen was opened on August 10 by Dr. Albert Fisch. About 20 British men of science were among the congress members, who came from all over the world. Special interest was attached to a demonstration of the apparatus devised by Professor Carrel and Colonel Lindbergh for the permanent transfer of isolated living organs. The famous aviator had installed the apparatus in the Biological Institute of the Carlsberg Foundation, to which Institute Colonel Lindbergh made a present of his so-called "robot heart."

COMMITTED TO SESSIONS

Hunghom Stabbing Sequel

BARBER PLEADS INSOBRIETY

So Shing, charged with maliciously wounding four persons, was committed for trial in the September Criminal Sessions by Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen yesterday at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court.

The four persons were an elderly woman, Ip Kiu, and her son and daughter, Kwok Hung and Li Fux, respectively, and her grandchild, Kwok Chi-tong, aged three.

Det. Insp. E. H. Elston appeared for the prosecution.

The assault occurred at 77, Bulkeley Street, Hunghom, on July 16, when Mr. H. K. Long, of the Hong Kong and Yau-mat Ferry Co., seized the defendant from doing any more bodily harm, and effected his arrest.

At the remanded hearing continued before Mr. Macfadyen yesterday the defendant brought two witnesses, Wong Kau and Chai Kai, and while the former alleged knowing nothing about the stabbing affray, the latter said that he witnessed the whole incident, from the beginning of the quarrel to the stabbing.

Cross-examined by Insp. Elston, the witness said that the defendant was quite sober on the occasion.

Insp. Elston: Where the lights being used prior to the day of the stabbing incident?

Witness: Yes.

Were there other lights in the shop?

Yes.

How many?—Three.

If one light had been taken away, could the work of barbering have been carried on?—Yes.

The next witness, Dr. Y. K. Ng, Medical Officer at the Kowloon Hospital, deposed, upon questioning by Insp. Elston, that the defendant was sober at the time he was examined.

Mr. Long also corroborated Dr. Ng's evidence by saying that he did not smell alcohol on defendant's breath when he seized him.

Wong Chung, a bailiff, deposed that he seized property belonging to Ip Kiu, but not to the defendant. Mr. Macfadyen then committed the defendant to the Criminal Sessions.

BANKRUPTCY COURT

Application was made before the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor at the Bankruptcy Court yesterday by Mr. J. B. Prentiss, for the annulment of the adjudication order against Chan Kwan-mo.

Mr. Prentiss stated that the order was made in the hope that the father-in-law of the debtor would carry out his promise to pay $10 a month. That promise had not been carried out.

He submitted that the bankruptcy was disadvantageous to the debtor in that over one third of the money was expended in fees.

His Lordship agreed and an order was accordingly made.

IMPRISONMENT HAS ITS CURE

Coal Basket Thefts On Decrease

FOUR MORE COOLIES SENTENCED

Further action by the coal contractors' guild, lead to the appearance before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistrate's Court yesterday of four men charged separately with theft of 53 empty coal baskets from contractors in Lockhart Road, Wanchai.

Chan Leung 36, coal coolie, charged with theft of 21 baskets from three addresses in Lockhart Road, was sentenced to nine weeks' imprisonment.

Leung Lun, 43, ash coolie, for theft of 28 baskets from No. 388 Lockhart Road was sent to prison for one month.

Kwok Cheung, coolie, and Wang Yau, coolie, charged with stealing two baskets each were fined $35 and $25, respectively, or one month's imprisonment.

All admitted guilt.

Mr. F. I. Zimmern, who prosecuted on behalf of the Coal Merchants' Guild, said that since the last convictions two days ago when two men were each sentenced to two months' hard labour, there had been a noticeable decrease in the number of missing baskets.

The accused in the present cases were employed as coolies by restaurants to remove coal-ash and were given baskets in which to carry the debris away. The baskets were rarely returned.

Loss suffered by the various contracting coal merchants amounted to as much as $5,000 a year. At one time as many as 200 baskets disappeared a day, each valued at eight cents.

Accused had admitted that they in turn sold the baskets for five cents.

TEMPER FRAYED

Foki Stabbed in Stomach

Loss of temper in a quarrel between a master and his foki, resulted in the latter receiving a stab wound in his abdomen.

Det. Sergt. C. Dowman told Mr. Schofield at the Central Court yesterday that Lo Sing Cheung, tailor of 53 Leighton Hill, ground floor, threw a pair of scissors at Li Yat Kwai. It lodged in the latter's stomach, inflicting a wound a quarter-of-an-inch deep.

The quarrel apparently arose when the foki who was instructed by Lo to cut a length of Singapore silk to measurement, failed to comply with the order. The foki threw a porcelain bowl at his master and the latter retaliated with the scissors.

Li was detained in hospital as a result of his injury.

Both parties were bound over in the sum of $50 for a year, and Lo was ordered to pay $2 compensation in addition.

Around the Courts

FALSE REPORT

In an effort to get three men into trouble, Chung Wai, 37, unemployed made a false report to the authorities concerning a robbery in Kennedy Road in the vicinity of St. Joseph's College.

Yesterday before Mr. Balfour, Chung was fined $10 or seven days' imprisonment for "causing public mischief" by reporting that he had been robbed of $1.20.

Detective Sub-Inspector Flattery said that enquiries made by the police proved defendant's report was false. Later he admitted revenge on three men as his motive.

SOLICITING

Inspector K. W. Andrew happened to be in civilian clothes yesterday morning about 12.30, and a rickshaw coolie, Choi Tak, came up to him and asked him if he would like a girl. The coolie was taken into custody and before Mr. E. Himsworth, at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court he received three weeks' imprisonment for soliciting for immoral purposes.

HAD SOME DRINKS!

Charged with being drunk and disorderly, a shop foki, Li Kam Po, 23, was cautioned against a recurrence of the offence by Mr. Balfour at the Central Police Court yesterday. Acting Inspector W. Mair stated that Li was found in Staunton Street near Shing Wong Street shortly after 10 p.m. in a hopeless condition. He caused no trouble, however. His wife bailed him out during the night.

JOURNALIST FINED

L. S. Le Gay Brereton, of the "South China Morning Post," was fined $5 for not having a red tail-light on his car, No. 3034, at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court yesterday.

Defendant said that he was looking for a place to purchase a bulb when an Indian constable stopped him about the missing tail-light.

As the time was then about 11.30 p.m. he had difficulty in finding a store open.

AMAH'S VIGIL ON ROOF

Man Seen Taking A Blanket

FREQUENT TYPE OF LARCENY

Because of the number of thefts that have occurred lately from house-top roofs where clothing and blankets were left out in the sun for drying, amahs of flats in Leighton Hill were placed on guard all day to keep watch on the washline.

This was revealed at the Central Court yesterday when Lam Ng Hing, 24-year-old unemployed tailor was charged with theft of a blanket from No. 3 Leighton Hill, the property of Mr. Springall.

Det. Sergeant C. Dowman stated that the amah saw accused making away with the blanket. She raised an alarm and Lam was caught by the occupants of the ground floor. The blanket was valued at $15. Thefts of this type were on the increase.

A fine of $50 or six weeks' imprisonment was imposed.

BIG BUILDING PLANNED FOR KOWLOON

A scheme is afoot now which will mean the demolition of a very old land mark known as Rose Terrace. Plans are now being prepared for a large building of 15 storeys to be erected on this old site which faces Nathan Road and extends to the M.B.K. quarters at Midden Road.

If passed by the Government this building will be the largest ever built here. Plans of the building will appear in the "Daily Press" later.

EXHIBITION CLOSING

FACSIMILE OF WORKS MAY BE ORDERED

It is announced that the Exhibition of the Hong Kong Working Artists' Guild which has been current for some time at the Gloucester Building, first floor, will be closed at 6 p.m. on Monday next, and will not be extended any further.

In order to enable visitors who may not find time on week days to attend the Exhibition special arrangements have been made for it to remain open on Sunday the opening hours of which are as usual, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

We are informed that if any one intends to secure a picture but cannot afford to pay its original price order can be made to secure a facsimile thereof at a considerably lower price to be agreed upon. Such special offer should certainly be taken advantage of by art lovers.

Further, if one intends to see more works of any particular artist arrangements can be made for one to visit such artist's studio for that purpose.

EXHIBITION OF CHINESE ART

The Hong Kong Working Artists' Guild announces that as from to-day they are presenting an Exhibition of the In Yu Art Club of Canton on the 1st floor of Gloucester Building. The show will contain the works of Mr. Wang Ng, Mr. Man Wang Chan and Mr. She Wang To, totalling about 120.

The Exhibition will continue until Wednesday, September 2, and the opening hours will be the same, i.e. from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

At the same time a portion of the works of the members of the Guild can still be seen at the Exhibition.

NORTH CHINA'S VAST RESOURCES ENLIGHTENING SURVEY

With the talk of economic co-operation between China and Japan now filling the air, a general survey of the economic resources of Hopei, Chahar, Suiyuan, Shansi, Shantung and Honan—generally included in the sphere of North China—reveals that this area is not only abounding in coal and iron ore resources, but is also rich in mineral oil deposits. Besides being rich in mineral resources, Hopei, Chahar, Shantung, Shansi, Shensi, Suiyuan, and Honan are also the leading wool and cotton-producing centres of China, according to a recent unofficial investigation.

Statistics show that coal, of which the total deposits amount to 240,000 million tons, or 90% of China's total annual coal resources, is by far the most important in the mineral industry of these provinces. Taking the lead among them is Shansi, which alone boasts of having a reserve of 120,000 million tons annually. They are mainly distributed in Tientsin, Wutai-shan, and Yanchuan.

Figures for coal resources in Hopei are 30 million tons; Shantung, 16; Honan, 66; Shensi 720; Suiyuan, 10; and Chahar, 10. Of the output of coal-mining companies, the Kailan Mining Administration comes first, it alone turning out 1,000,000 tons a year.

With the puppet state occupying an iron deposit of 750 million tons in Liaoning province alone, or 75% of its total resources in China, as estimated by the Peiping Geological Survey recently, the remaining 25% are mostly distributed in the Huanhua-Lungyen area of Chahar province, with a probable reserve of 90 million tons. Iron ore deposits are also prolific at Luanchow, Hopei; Chinglingchen, Shantung; Hsinhsiang, Honan; Tatsingshan and Suiyuan.

No accurate figures are available concerning the resources of mineral oil in North China. Rich resources of this mineral product, however, are said to have been discovered along the Shansi and northern Shensi border regions.

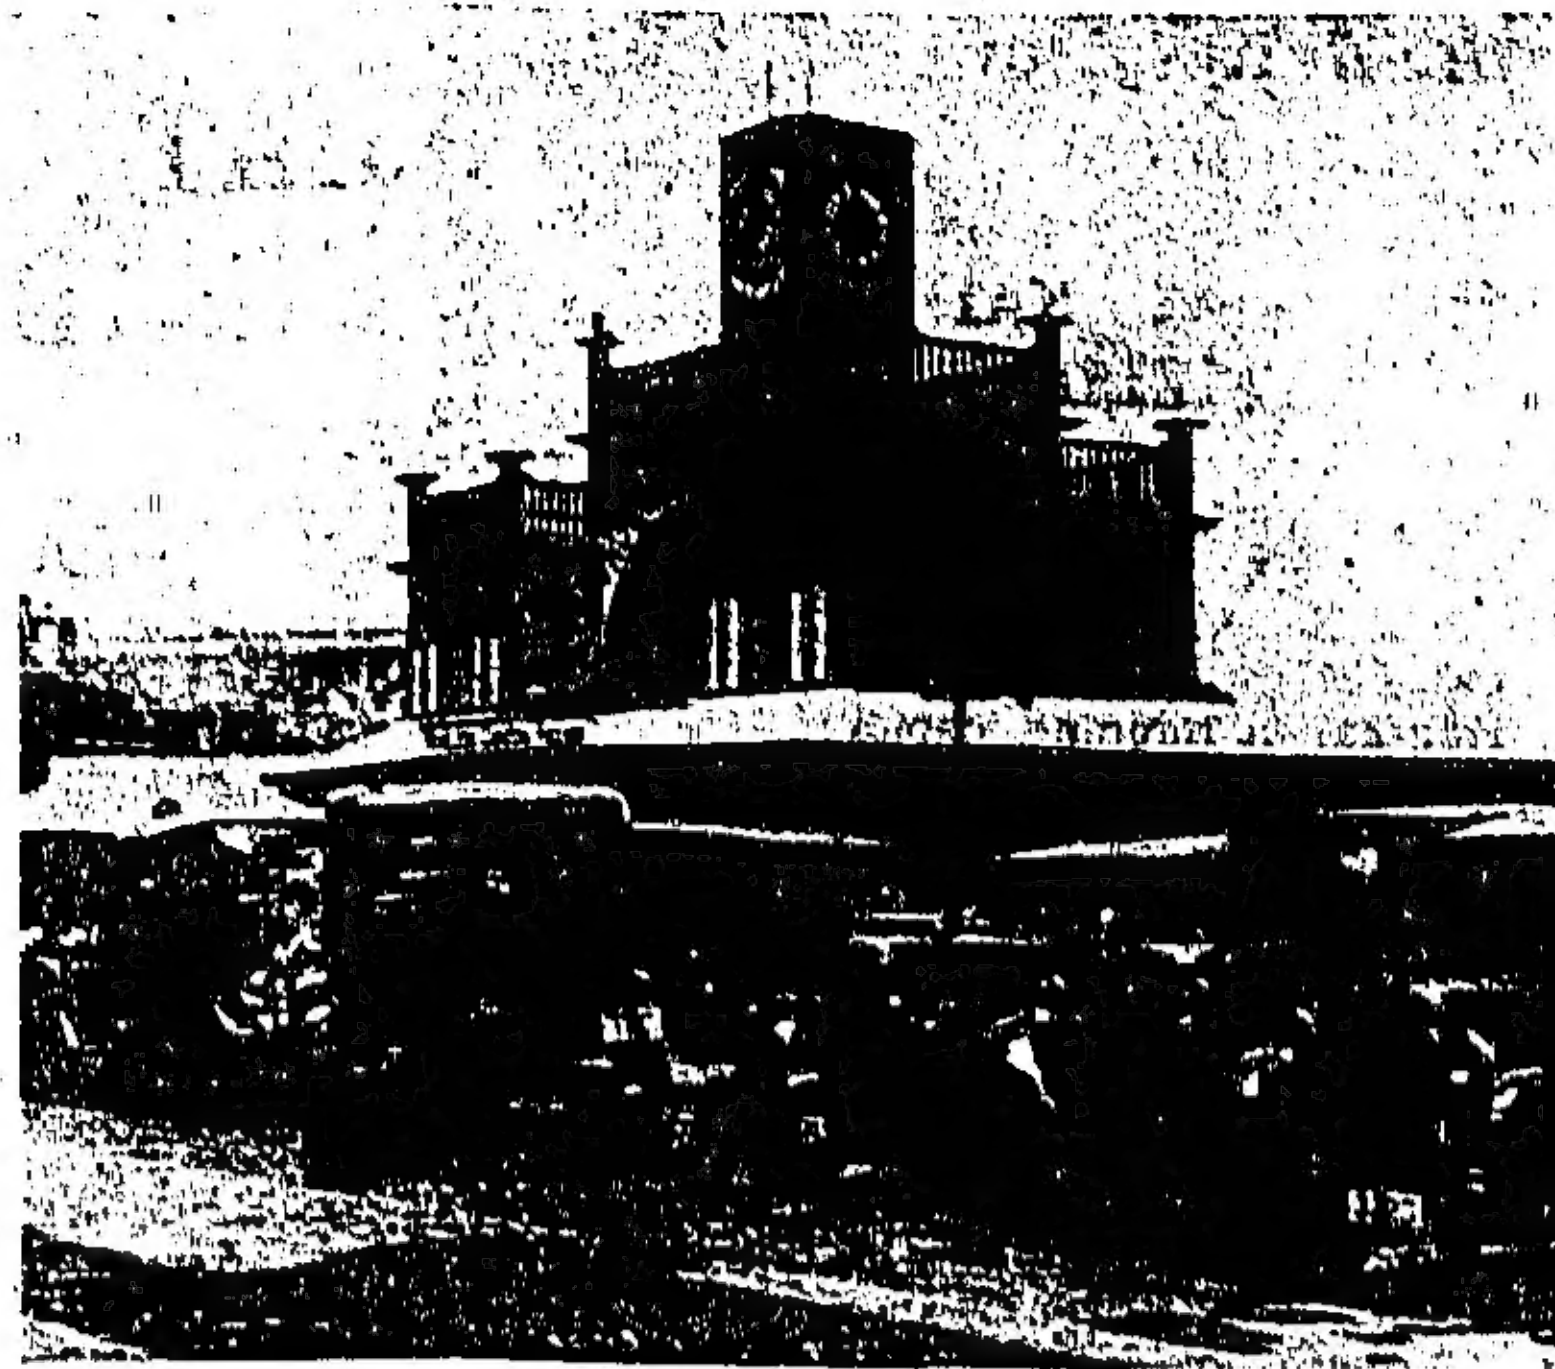

Salt production reaching 5,000,000 and 7,000,000 tons annually is recorded for Hopei and Shantung respectively. Salt lakes also exist in Shansi.

Turning to the animal husbandry and cotton industry, cotton and wool are the two chief products of North China. Except Suiyuan and Chahar and the northern regions of Shansi, where the intense cold affects the growth of the crop, cotton is widely planted in the remaining provinces. The annual cotton output is 6,000,000 piculs, or 60% of China's total production. Hopei and Shantung produce the most, which share 2,700,000 and 1,300,000 piculs respectively. Honan raises more than 100,000 piculs, while Shensi and Shansi produce more than 500,000 each.

On the other hand, Suiyuan and Chahar, the two coldest provinces in North China, practically monopolize the production of wool. Its annual exportation from Tientsin alone amounts to 90% of China's total production, of which 450,000 piculs are exported to foreign countries. The rest are sold to woolen factories in Peiping and Tientsin.

LONGEST RAILWAY IN CHINA

Project Will Require Outlay Of $15,000,000

ROADWORK ON THE LONGEST AND ONE OF THE MOST DIFFICULT RAILWAY PROJECTS EVER UNDERTAKEN IN CHINA, THE HUNAN-KWEICHOW LINE, HAS BEEN STARTED.

HUNAN-KWEICHOW LINE

Linking Chuchow, crossing point of the Canton-Hankow and Chekiang-Kiangsi railways, and the capital of Kweichow, Kweiyang, the line measures 1,000 kilometers in length and will entail an outlay of $15,000,000.

Two physical difficulties now face the railway engineers as they are about to launch the gigantic scheme, the completion of which will bring China's seemingly inaccessible Southwest nearer to the coast. First, of them is the mountainous topography and the second is the several big rivers through which the route takes.

It is estimated that at least 20 giant tunnels will have to be drilled.

But the main handicap lies in the construction of railway bridges to span three main tributaries of Hunan, the Hsiangkiang, the Tzu-shui and the Wanshui. Of these the Hsiangkiang presents the greatest problem.

Situated at the crossroad of the Hunan-Kweichow line and the Changsha-Paoching highway, a 787-kilometer railway bridge will have to be built across the longest river of Hunan. Costing $2,000,000, the bridge, when completed, will rank next to the Chientang River bridge, in Chekiang, as the longest in this country.

Though presenting minor difficulties, it is figured out that two railway bridges of 500 kilometers each will have to be erected to span the Tzu-chui and Wanshui. Construction cost for each is conservatively put at $1,000,000 upwards. Aside from these three main bridges, the whole line will have 300 small bridges.

A greater part of the surveying work, it is learned, has been completed. The only remaining section is that within the Kweichow territory which measures about 100 kilometers.

Public tender will soon be called for the construction of the Hsiangkiang railway bridge. Work is expected to start in the middle of September. Local labour will be used to undertake the project but, if necessary, labourers from North China will also be drafted.

POPULAR CONCERT OF MODERN MUSIC

"The Million-Airs On Parade" At Recreio

Jazz music, Hawaiian selections and the most popular songs from recent films will be performed by well-known local amateurs in a concert presented by the Hong Kong Portuguese Amateur Artists. The performance will take place on Sunday, September 6 at 9.15 p.m. in the Club de Recreio, Kowloon, and on the following Saturday it will be repeated at the same hour at the Craigengower Cricket Club. Admission on each occasion is one dollar and dancing will follow both performances. The entire proceeds of both concerts will be devoted to the Society of St. Vincent de Paul.

Among the artists who are giving the services are Miss Doreen Ma, the Tavares Sisters, Gus d'Aquino, Tony Silva, Miguel Franco, Frank Gardner, Fred Abraham and Chapple Lawrence, Ozo and his boy friends, the Moana Beach boys and a fifteen-piece jazz orchestra.

Tickets may be obtained from many members of the local Portuguese community, from Mr. J. F. Tavares, c/o Messrs. Reiss, Bradley and Co., and Moutrie and Co., Ltd. Many local music-lovers and many admirers of the work of the St. Vincent de Paul Society have already signified their intention of being present.

MURDER CASE

Further Evidence
Recorded

Further evidence was heard by Mr. Schofield at the Central Police Court yesterday in the case in which Bhag Singh, a constable of the Indian contingent of the Hong Kong Police Force is charged with the murder of a fellow-constable, Sahib Singh, on the second floor verandah of the Central Police Station on July 26. Sahib Singh was shot dead.

Mr. E. H. Williams, Assistant Attorney-General, is conducting the case for the Crown, while the defendant is represented by Mr. W. M. Brown, of Messrs. Hastings.

Dr. R. S. Begbie, Assistant Government Bacteriologist, stated that he examined the accused and found that he was drunk.

Chief Detective Inspector J. Murphy, an Indian constable, and a priest of the Sikh temple, gave torpid evidence after which the hearing was adjourned to Monday afternoon.

FATAL FALL

Believed to have had drunk Chinese wine, To Lai Hing, 58, fell down the stairs of his residence at 11, On Lai Street and died shortly after admission to the Government Civil Hospital.

TRAFFIC OFFENCES

Soldier And Chinese Fined
For Speeding

Driver T. Cushman, of the R.A.S.C., was fined $25 by Mr. Schofield at the Central Police Court yesterday for dangerous driving along Gloucester Road at 10 a.m. on August 18. Traffic Sergeant G. Youe said defendant was travelling at a speed of 40 m.p.h. on lorry No. 1056.

Tang Yui Wing, was fined $25 for a similar offence on the main road at Shau Ki Wan, on August 15. Accused was stated to have driven public car No. 359 at a speed between 30 and 35 m.p.h. at 11.30 p.m.

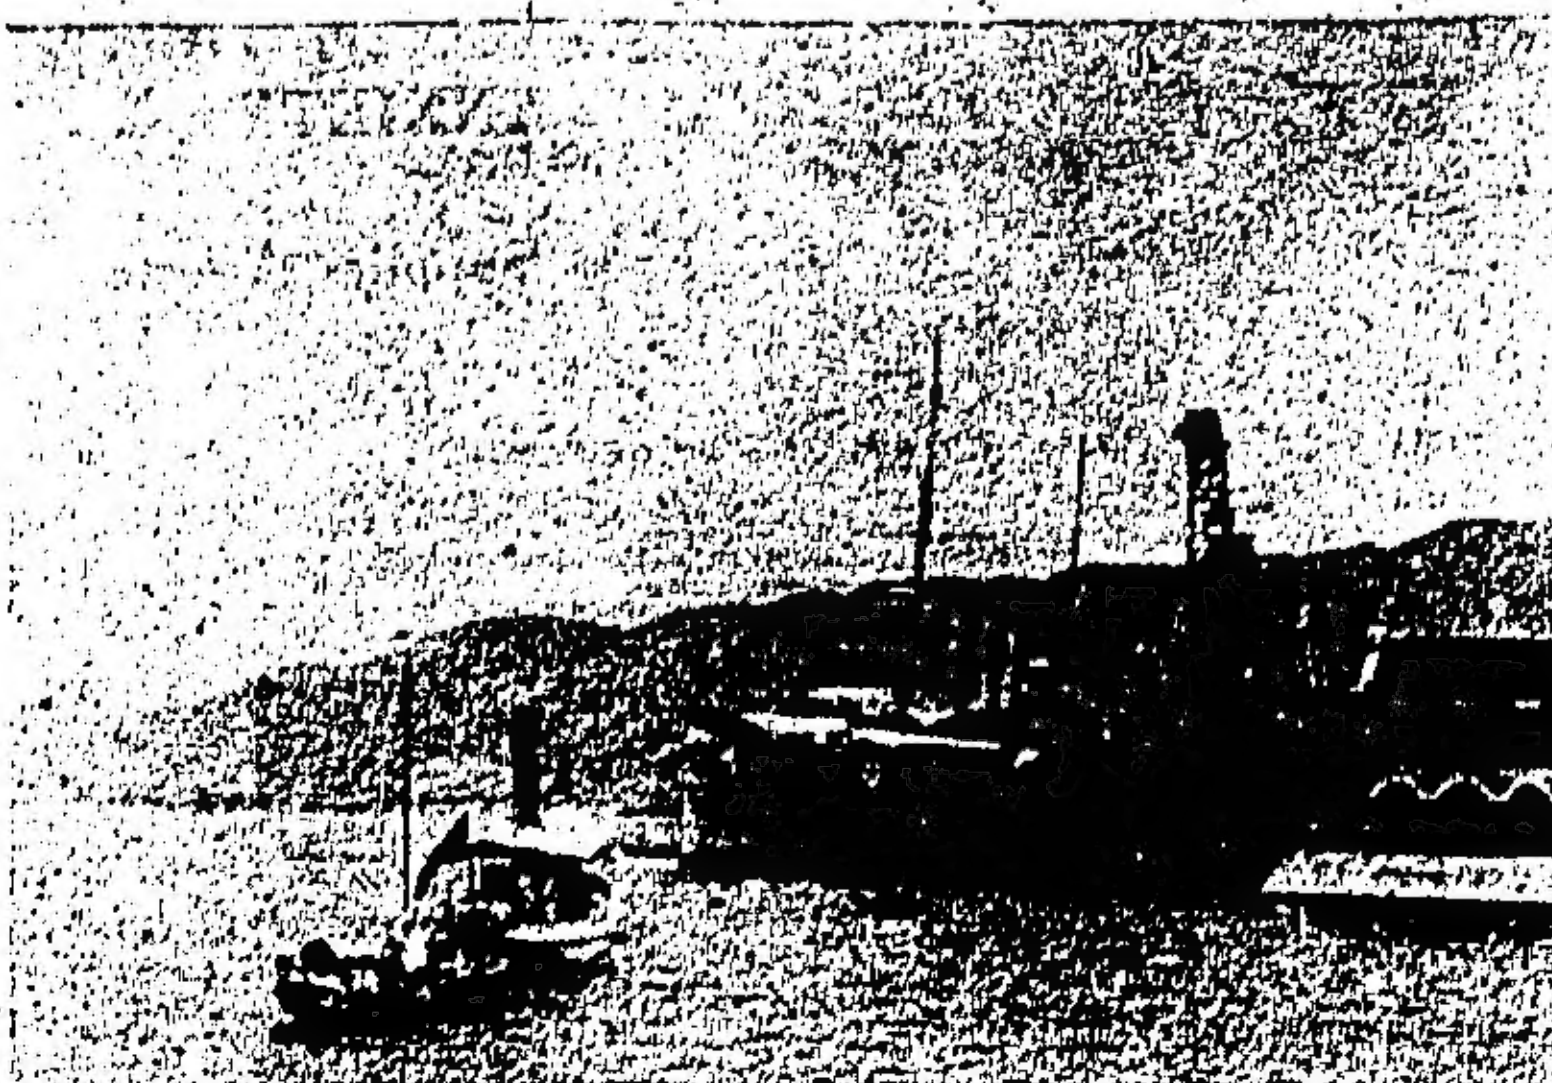

SUMMONS DISMISSED

Au Man, lorry driver, was dismissed by Mr. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy, on charges brought by Chief Inspector Booker.

It seemed that the driver of the lorry was loaded with sand on the day in question, when he was supposed to have driven without due care and caution, whereas Inspector Booker gave evidence that he saw baskets on the rear of the truck.

Remarking that there was a possibility of a mistake, due to rain falling at the time, Mr. Macfadyen dismissed the summons.

FRIENDS OF FLOWERS

There are flowers for nose-gays, flowers that make a brave show in vases, flowers whose mother plants thrive by cutting. And then there are the flowers of a shy, home-loving nature, content to live far from tended gardens, so much happier if they live undisturbed among their own kind. Once plucked, they are never again so lovely. Careless young folk, tempted by their fragile sweetness, eagerly gather them; but they quickly wilt in warm hands. The ardor for possession cools as they droop, and usually they are impatiently flung away and trodden under foot without ever knowing a brief flicker of revival in bowls of cool water.

It is a sign of growth, in knowledge and wisdom when we can find real pleasure in the view of a bank of anemones or the fragrance of a patch of arbutus, taking away a memory rather than a fast-fading armful of flowers. Wordsworth, when he saw a primrose by the river's brim or a host of daffodils along the margin of a bay, knew better than to carry them away and so dispel the magic that inspired him. They were more beautiful in their own place than they could possibly be elsewhere, even on a poet's writing desk.

Warlike Atmosphere

Canton, Aug. 28. It is reported that a censorship has been established here for censoring all Chinese newspapers. No news about the military movements of the Kwangtung troops are allowed to be published, so as to prevent information falling into the hands of the enemy.

All general news items are allowed to be published as usual. At an extraordinary meeting recently held at the Headquarters of the 4th Division Army, the head of the censorship bureau explained to the Chinese press representatives the reasons for establishing the censorship, and also asked them to co-operate with the Government.

NANKING AND KWANGSIHostilities Now
ImminentTSAI TING KAI
IN FIELD

Shanghai, August 28. War between Nanking and Kwangsi is now inevitable. Following the arrival of General Tsai Ting-kai in Nanking, capital of Kwangsi, the attitude of General Pei Tsung-hsi and other Kwangsi leaders seem to have become stronger than ever. General Li Tsung-jen has definitely expressed his determination not to continue negotiations with the Nanking authorities, unless their demands are accepted.

Minor clashes have now started along the Kwangtung-Kwangsi border, as the 19th Route and Kwangsi Army under General Hsia Wei continues its advance toward Loting and Hsiuyi.

KWANGSI DECISION

Wuchow, August 28. The following decisions were reached at a meeting of the Kwangsi leaders at Nanning.

1. To summon an Emergency Conference.

2. General Chen Ming-shu be appointed special agent to foreign nations.

3. Mr. Liu Luyin, right-hand man of the late Mr. Hu Han-min, be appointed Chief of the Publicity Department.

4. The formation of a military Government with General Tsai Ting-kai and Pei Tsung-hsi as Vice-Chairmen.

5. The establishment of military headquarters with General Li Tsung-jen as the Commander-in-Chief and Generals Tsai and Pei as field commanders.

"WHEN I DIE"

WHAT H. G. WELLS WANTS
SAID ABOUT HIMSELF!

Self-written Obituary

REVEALING STUDY

Mr. Wells is, of course, very much alive. But here is what he would wish to have said of him when the time comes for his obituary to be written.

The name of Mr. H. G. Wells, who died yesterday afternoon of heart failure in the Paddington Infirmary at the age of 97, will have few associations for the younger generation. But those listeners whose adult memories stretch back to the opening decades of the present century and who shared the miscellaneous reading of the period, may recall a number of titles of books he wrote and may even find in some odd attic an actual volume or so of his works. He was indeed one of the most prolific of the literary hacks of that time; he not only wrote books himself, but critical studies, and even short volumes were written about him, and the number of entries under his name in the catalogue of that mighty literary mausoleum, the Reading Room (long since deserted by any readers) of the British Museum in London, amount to nearly six hundred.

An interesting study of Wells was broadcast five years ago from the London centre by Miss Phelps Lemon, and little has arisen since to modify her verdict. She describes him as something between a portent and a pioneer. He wrote a very frank and explicit autobiography which was published in 1934 and he added a supplement which, though it has never been printed, is accessible to the curious in the manuscript collection in the British Museum. From these documents we learn that his origins were common, and socially if not chronologically he reached back to the eighteenth century and the ascendancy of the British landed gentry. He was born in 1866. His father was a gardener who became a small shopkeeper and professional cricketer, and his mother was the daughter of an old world linkkeeper, and before her marriage a 'lady's maid' and subsequently a 'housekeeper'. The most interesting thing about Wells was his refusal to accept the social inferiority to which he seemed to have been born and the tenacity with which he insisted upon his role as the free citizen of a new world that was arising out of the debacle of the warring national states of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. He had a flair for what is coming. He was a liberal democrat in the sense that he claimed an unlimited right to think, criticize, discuss and suggest, and he was a socialist in his antagonism to personal, racial or national monopolization.

HIS PERSONAL VANITIES

It was his vanity to compare himself to Roger Bacon, and his attempts to anticipate the comprehensive synthesis of our present World Encyclopedia, in his now forgotten "Outline of History," his "Work, Wealth and Happiness of Mankind," his contributions to the "Science of Life" and "Anatomy of Frustration," are still remarkable, having regard to this period, for the boldness of their aim, even if the necessary impatience, limitations and ineptitudes of his treatment disqualify them now as serious contributions to general education. Wells was a copious and repetitive essayist upon public affairs and a still more copious writer of fiction. He wrote scientific romances, whose original freshness has long since been destroyed by the general advance of knowledge, and novels which have neither the circumstantial correctness which give his contemporaries Galsworthy and Bennett, their documentary value, nor that ruthless frankness which endow such work as Maugham's "Ashenden" and so much of the younger American school of that time, with a sort of blessing immortality. Wells was essentially an intellectual with an instinctive dislike for the vehemences, the zeals, patriotisms and partisanisms, intensities and emotional floods of life. When the dealt with passion he was apt to write insincerely. His keenest feeling seems to have been a cold anger at intellectual and moral pretentiousness. The question whether he was to be considered a "humourist" was discussed but never settled and it need not trouble us now. He played a not very successful part in the early attempts to make the films mean something. The organization, he says, was too much for him. It expelled whatever of his ideas had survived the director, automatically "in the cutting room. Perhaps the organization knew its own appeal better than he did.

"I SHALL WRITE A BOOK"

He was seriously injured in a brawl with some Fascist roughs brought about by a rare fit of indignation on his part in 1933, and his health was further impaired by a spell in a concentration camp under the brief communist dictatorship of 1942. Thereafter his once considerable vitality seems to have deserted him. He had no recorded share in the vigorous mental and social renaissance, we have witnessed in the past decade, in spite of the fact that it followed so closely upon lines he had foreshadowed. From being a premature, he became a forgotten man. His immediate needs were relieved by a small civil list pension in 1955. He occupied an old tumble-down house upon the border of Regent's Park and his bent, shabby, slovenly and latterly somewhat obese figure was frequently to be seen in the adjacent gardens, sitting and looking idly at the boats on the lake or the flowers in the beds, or hobbling painfully about with the aid of a stick, coughing or talking to himself. "Someday," he would be heard to say, "I shall write a book, a real book."

Miss Phelps Lemon has compared him not inaptly to a reef-building coral polyp. He was much more the scientific man than the artist, though he dealt in literary forms. Scarcely anything remains of him now and yet, without him, and his like, the reef of common ideas on which our civilization stands to-day could never have arisen.

CRIPPLED MOTOR SHIP

Nora Maersk Due To-Day

TO BE REPAIRED OR BROKEN UP?

Feared at one time to be a total loss, the motor ship Nora Maersk, owned by Messrs. A. P. Moller, Copenhagen, towed by the Kowloon Docks salver tug Henry Keswick, is expected to arrive in Hong Kong to-day. She will be taken to the Kowloon Docks for extensive survey when it will then be ascertained whether repairs or the vessel sold for breaking up.

Mr. H. E. Nielsen, marine superintendent of A. P. Moller, is in the Colony, to supervise work in this connection.

The Nora Maersk (6,270 tons) was in the bay at Zamboanga loading copra preparatory to sailing for the United States via Manila, China and Japan on June 19 when a fire broke out on board following an explosion in the engine room during the afternoon.

The second engineer was severely injured. The remainder of the crew and passengers escaped unhurt.

The motor tug Trabador, owned by the Lustevco Stevedoring Co., Inc., Manila, was first on the scene and rendered assistance to the Nora Maersk. When pumping the ship was completed, the Henry Keswick took the crippled vessel in tow and left for Hong Kong via Manila.

PORTUGAL GIVES CONDITIONS FOR NEUTRALITY TERRITORIAL INTEGRITY GUARANTEE

"Protection Of European Civilisation"

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Lisbon, August 28.

The Portuguese Government issued a declaration enumerating the conditions under which she was willing to subscribe to the neutrality agreement in the Spanish civil war. It is stated that Portugal requires her own nationals, her territory and integrity guaranteed, as well as efforts to be made to mediate between the warring parties.

Portugal also needs, she says, the assurance of "protection of European civilisation in the event of a destructive government coming into power in Spain." Portugal furthermore is to maintain the right to remain in relationship to those governmental or local authorities which exercise administrative power.

Finally Portugal reserves the right to recognise a new government which might be formed in Spain having its own diplomatic and consular representatives.

WAR MATERIAL BAN

The communiqué goes on to say that Portugal will prohibit all direct or indirect export of war material of any description to Spain or her colonies, and also the transit of such war material through Portugal.

The Government is of the opinion that recruiting volunteers or the permission of such, as well as public subscription of funds for either of the belligerent parties is contrary to the spirit of the agreement and expects that the interested Governments will take measures to prevent such activities within their countries.

It is also expected that all interested Governments will exercise pressure on both belligerents that no poison gas is used in the civil war.

Hendaye, Aug. 28.

A Spanish Nationalist flying group took up the bombardment of a Government troop position on the Irun-San Sebastian front on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. Many houses were demolished and set afire on the outskirts of Irun.

The Marxists have evidently brought a long range gun into position, which is shooting continuously in the direction of Oyarzun.

At 6.30 p.m. a destroyer flying the Nationalist colours began to shell the Government fort of Guadalupe and Fuenterrabia. The result is that the Nationalists advanced about 300 metres in the village of Behovia, which is completely evacuated.

A constant stream of refugees is arriving at Biarritz, Jean de Luz and Bayonne.

INSURGENT ATTACK STEMMED

Hendaye, Aug. 27.

The struggle for the possession of Irun and San Sebastian was resumed to-day and resulted in another insurgent check.

Following a heavy barrage by both sides, the insurgents attempted to storm the Government lines but their attacks broke down and they were early compelled to abandon the direct assault along the road to Irun and attempted a flanking movement on the slopes of Mount Turlarte. This also ended in failure.

Following the arrival of reinforcements from Burgos, the rebels appear to have made some progress, but they have not succeeded in turning the strong Government positions.

This afternoon the fire slackened on both sides, for the combatants seemed to have tacitly agreed to have a tregue while the front line troops were relieved. Elsewhere the insurgents claim that Colonel Yague, the victor in the battle for Badajoz, has occupied Talavera.

It is alleged that a Government aeroplane bombed the hospital at Jaca. The commander of the garrison there has announced that for each further bomb dropped on the hospital five prisoners will be shot.

It is believed that Dr. Schacht explained that Germany's object was simply one of protection, in view of the Soviet's massive rearmament plan and foreign policy. It is understood Dr. Schacht cited statistics to show that the press figures, estimating the strength of the new German army at 1,000,000 men, were grossly exaggerated.

PROTEST FROM BURGOS

Unceasing Outflow Of Gold

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Hendaye, August 28.

A protest against the unceasing outflow of gold from the Bank of Spain is voiced by the Nationalist Provisional Government at Burgos. It is stated that the gold export already amounts to an almost fabulous total, and it is asked what France had given in exchange for it?

The message from Burgos then once more stresses the real significance of the Nationalist movement and strongly protests against the assertion that the movement aims at securing supremacy for a single section of the Spanish political life.

It is emphasised that on the contrary representatives of all social classes and all parties are to be found in the ranks of "those who are fighting for the liberation of Spain from Moscow and whose sole aim it is to free their fatherland of negative international influence and to reconstruct Spain on a new solid and socially equitable foundation."

MONEY MARKET DOUBTS

Italian Treasury Bond Issue

FOREIGN SUPPORT LUKEWARM

London, Aug. 28.

The money market is inclined to regard to-day's announcement that Italy is empowered to issue Treasury Bonds in foreign currencies on foreign markets with diffidence.

It is pointed out that difficulty to make such an issue at present is great owing to the low state of Italy's credit, and it is emphasised that any success is likely to be due solely to patriotism of Italian nationals resident abroad applying through the banks.

The money market proper affirms complete lack of desire to subscribe to the proposed bonds, of which the interest is variously rumoured to be five or six per cent., and suggests the only possibility is that outside financiers will be tempted to deal.

Italian financiers in London hint that the first attempt at flotation of bonds is likely to take place this autumn in New York, after which London will be the most likely venue.

ANGLO-EGYPTIAN ALLIANCE

MIXED RECEPTION BY THE PRESS

Severe Criticism In Some Quarters

London, August 28. No difficulties are anticipated in regard to ratification of the new Anglo-Egyptian treaty in Cairo or in London and it is assumed that at the earliest meeting of the League of Nations Assembly after ratification, Egypt's application for membership of the League will be considered. It will, of course, have the warm support of the British Government.

The treaty will not be ratified until Parliament has had an opportunity of discussing it. It is expected that ratification on the Egyptian side will take place sometime in November.

The "Times" says that continued occupation of "Cairo" by British troops was annoying and a reminder to Egyptians of the incompleteness of their independence. But when Egyptian opinion came to recognize the special interests of Great Britain in their country, the way was clear for a new policy for an alliance, safeguarding British interests, Egyptian sovereign rights and the military needs of both nations. All these treaty guarantees, its importance cannot be exaggerated.

The conversion of the uneasy, unequal and uncertain association of the last eighteen years into a friendly alliance concluded between two equally independent and sovereign states is a diplomatic success on which both Governments and their representatives are to be warmly congratulated.

Details of the tragedy are not yet available.

MITIGATION OF SUFFERING

Foreign Powers' Efforts In Civil War

London, Aug. 28.

The recent meeting of Diplomatic Representatives to Spain on the Franco-Spanish border at which it was proposed an appeal should be made to contending forces in the Spanish Civil War on humanitarian grounds to mitigate suffering as far as possible is the subject of a telegram to the British Ambassador from the Foreign Secretary the terms of which have been made public. It points out the proposal is one His Majesty's Government already had in mind and which has its strongest support.

Internal politics of Spain are the concern of the Spanish people but the mitigation of suffering is the concern of all. "The apparent refusal to take prisoners and the consequent mass execution of those who are captured or who surrender, reprisals for such acts and the increasing barbarities to which the reprisals inevitably lead are matters to which the civilised states cannot be indifferent. I understand it is to be proposed that diplomatic representatives should cooperate in the formulation of a scheme of approach to leaders of both sides. In any such approach His Majesty's Government will be ready and anxious to share. Moreover it is also their urgent desire to play their full part in any organised international effort such as will, it is to be hoped, result from this approach."

GREAT OPPORTUNITY

The "Daily Herald" says: "Doubtless there will be criticism in both countries of the details of the treaty, but we believe that the mass of opinion in both countries will be more than satisfied. The unhappy past can now be forgotten. It is the future which matters. And for people of Egypt the future the treaty provides is at once a great opportunity and great responsibility. For that future they have the best wishes of the British people."

The "Daily Mail" attitude continues severely critical, and it describes the treaty as a blow to Empire security, but practically all other leading newspapers welcome the new alliance.

"FERTILE NATIONS"

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Rome, August 28.

"Fertile nations have a right to an imperium," declared Mussolini in a speech in the town of Potenza in the South of Italy, which he visited on the occasion of the army manoeuvres.

The speaker explained that by "fertile nations" he meant such nations who have sufficient pride and energy to expand over the whole world.

BARBAROUS ACTS

London, Aug. 27.

The internal politics of Spain concern the people of Spain, but the mass execution of war prisoners and the barbarous reprisals engendered thereby are matters to which the civilised states cannot remain indifferent.

This point was stressed in a communication from the Foreign Office to the British Ambassador, Sir Henry Chilton, who is at present in Hendaye on the Franco-Spanish border, close to the scene of fighting around Irun and San Sebastian.

The communication cordially welcomes the projected scheme of co-operation in approaching the leaders of both sides to urge an end of brutality, and emphasises the urgent desire of the British Government to play a full part in an organised international effort which, it is hoped, will have favourable results.

WEEKLY BOWLS REVIEW

Fight For Runners-up Position In League SEASON NEARS END

(BY "SHORT HEAD")

The Bowls season is now drawing to a close and as Craigenower "A" have already won the Senior title the only interest left is for the runners-up position. The Club de Recreio by their victory over the Kowloon Bowling Green have this position within their grasp but should they falter in one of their three remaining matches Craigenower "B" and the Kowloon Bowling Green come in to the limelight again. In the second Division the Kowloon Bowling Green have only to beat the Police to retain the shield which they won last year. Club de Recreio is a very good second to them.

Reviewing last week's games, Recreio scored a convincing win over the Kowloon Bowling Green by 22 shots winning on two of the three rinks. F. X. Silva's rink had a very close game with Holland's four losing by one shot. The game was very well contested and some very good heads were played. Alves, who has been skipping well this season had another very good victory when he beat L. Guy's rink by 26-11. Remedios and Alves were the stumbling blocks to the Bowling Green. They played excellent bowls. Guy bowled well but was not given very much support by the others. C. C. Silva and his men won a grand game from Duncan's rink. Stoneham and Lines from the second team played for Duncan but were not a success leaving a lot of work for Duncan and Randall to do.

A NARROW SHAVE

Kowloon Cricket Club had a very narrow shave against the Civil Service played at Kings Park. The Cricketers won by two shots and the game was really anybody's until the last head. Silkstone's rink was mainly responsible for the victory defeating Holledge's rink by 10 shots. Overy and Spary played good bowls with Silkstone putting the finishing touches to each head. Holledge was best served by Cullip who really bowled well. Rakusen was inclined to be short the whole afternoon. Fincher's rink had an excellent game with McGowan's rink and in what must be a record low scoring game won 13 shots to 12. Labrum, Gittus and Jack played well although the latter at times was inclined to be a bit heavy at times to spoil the advantage the home team had. Gellatly and McGowan were the pick of the Civil Service four and if it had not been for them Fincher's rink would have won by a much larger margin.

POLICE DEFEATED

Kowloon Docks came into their own by beating the Police by a margin of 16 shots. Cullen's rink was mainly responsible, they beat Logan's rink by 16 shots. All four in Cullen's rink played good bowls and easily outbowled the four skipped by Logan. The other two rinks had a very even game. Cooper was up two shots on Blair. Fraser was down two shots to Holland.

Craigenower "A" without the services of the Omar Bros. and U. S. Rosset, made mincemeat of the Craigenower "B". Baa's rink was up most, beating Way's rink by 11 shots.

Playing on their home ground the I. R. C. easily beat the Talkoo Dockyard by 20 shots. A. O. Madar's rink easily put it across. Drummond's rink by 21 shots. The Talkoo four could not get the green and were hopelessly outbowled.

JUNIOR DIVISION

In the Second Division the most important match of the afternoon was that between the Recreio and the Bowling Green at Austin Road and which was won by the former by 6 shots. F. X. Soares and his men could do nothing wrong and beat the strong rink skipped by Rose to the tune of 14 shots. L. J. Silva's rink had a narrow win over Sheriff by 5 shots. There was nothing much in the game and the result might easily have been the other way. Thompson's rink was the only Bowling Green rink to win, he beat C. H. Bastos's rink by 13 shots.

The other Second Division games all ended closely.

The semi-finals of the Open Rinks takes place on Sunday on the Club de Recreio Green between the rink skipped by A. R. Dallan and that skipped by U. M. Omar. D. Rumjahn is in hospital and his place has been taken by Razack. Omar's rink still looks stronger and should win by a fair margin.

GOLF REFORM

Present-Day Ball Will Be Restricted

The average golfer is now unperturbed by rumours which have been current in the past few years that the liveliness of the present-day ball will be restricted by golfing law. He has been told so often that he and his fellows form a high percentage of the world's players and are therefore the financial backbone of the game that he cannot visualise any interference with this world-wide system of collective security. In short, he is convinced that his glorious summer will not turn into a winter of discontent merely because of a feeling among those who sit in the high places of golf that the long hitting and low scoring of the leading professional and amateurs should be curbed.

But that some form of restriction will be introduced shortly there is every reason to believe. It may be by increasing the size of the ball, or by lessening its weight, or by imposing on the makers a specification designed to prevent players from reducing all but the very longest courses to a succession of drives and approach shots. The aim of such restriction is not primarily to stop low scoring. Even with a larger or lighter ball than is at present used scores will still be much lower than 20 years ago. But there is a laudable desire on the part of golf's legislators to restore to the game those shots which the modern ball has made superfluous. The average golfer may retort with truth that he still requires to play, if he can, all the shots ever played, that his brassie is used as often as it was 20 years ago, and that if a new ball is introduced the sins of omission of the few will be visited upon the many. He will demand his every yard of distance, claiming that it is dearly bought. And like Shylock, he will say, "Tis mine, and I will have it."

If that is the attitude of the average golfer to any proposed change in the construction of the ball it will be some consolation to him to learn that he will suffer much less than the first class player. Even his pride will not suffer for any change will affect all golfers, and pride will therefore not go before a falling-off in the length of his tee shots. If, as seems most likely, the weight of the ball is left unchanged and the size increased fractionally to that of the ball now in general use in America, golf will become for the many much more enjoyable and for the few more exacting.

BIG AQUATIC MEET

Colony Championships Next Month

Hong Kong's major swimming attraction, the annual Colony championships, will commence in the Victoria Recreation Club pool on Tuesday, September 15, at 6 p.m.

The entries close on Friday, Sept. 4, at 6 p.m., and entry forms can be obtained upon application to the Hon. Secretary or Bar Boy at the Victoria Recreation Club.

If the number of entries for the various events necessitate heats, arrangements have been made to swim them off on Friday, Sept. 11.

Included in the programme are a number of events confined to members of the V.R.C. and Ladies, thus making a programme of 6 or 7 events on the first three evenings and about 10 on the last night.

The programme on September 15, 16 and 18 will commence at 6 p.m. each day and at 9.15 p.m. on Saturday, September 19, when the meet will conclude.

The programme of championship events are as follows: September 15: 100 Yards Free Style; Throwing the Polo Ball; 100 Yards Back Stroke.

September 16: 100 Yards Free Style (Ladies Championship of the Colony); 880 Yards Free Style;

Team Race (Open to the Colony, 4 men, 50 yards each).

September 18: 100 Yards Free Style (Boys' Championship of the Colony, 15 years and under); Long Punge; 220 Yards Free Style.

September 19: 50 Yards Free Style; 100 Yards Breast Stroke; Diving; 440 Yards Free Style.

Entrance Fee—$1.00, each event; Team Race $2.00 per team.

VERSATILE LAWRENCE

Wilfred Lawrence, the record-breaking swimming champion of the Colony, will be defending his titles in the 100 yards free style, 220 yards, 440 yards, 880 yards free style and 100 yards back stroke which he won last year in the times of 57 1/5 secs.; 2 mins. 25 secs.; 5 mins. 28 2/5 secs.; 11 m. 47 1/5 secs.; and 69 2/5 secs. respectively, all of which were records.

Lawrence has been keeping in strict training and his performances in the forthcoming championships are eagerly awaited.

British Athletes Lack Concentration

"THEY WON'T BE BOTHERED"

SAYS JESSE OWENS

A tall, brown-skinned young man, with a superbly graceful figure, stepped out of a cab that drew up at an hotel—Jesse Owens, the most renowned athlete in the world at the moment, writes a special correspondent in the "Evening Standard."

He has a charming, unaffected manner. One likes him at once. His head is rather small and well-shaped, with a resolute mouth and chin.

"I enjoyed my first Olympic Games very much indeed," he told me.

Of course, he was pleased with his own success.

GOOD BASEBALL PLAYERS

I asked him if athletics had been hereditary in his family. He said no, but his brothers, who were college boys like himself, were very good baseball players.

"I don't myself go in for any other form of athletics than my own particular specialty. The American college system of training makes us concentrate on that to the exclusion of everything else. A walker must only walk, a runner only run, a swimmer only swim, and so on. Otherwise the training would be thrown out of gear."

Referring to the British display at the Olympic Games, Jesse said: "I think you have splendid material in England, but you seem to have been lying down. You don't concentrate enough. If your boys were to take athletics as seriously as the American boys do, there is no reason why they shouldn't do just as well. But, of course, while they go into training for only short spells, and the rest of the year do as they please, they can't expect to compete with boys who devote themselves to one particular sport the whole time. The British won't be bothered, that's the difference."

"They go in for sport principally for the pleasure of playing games, and don't attach such importance to winning them," I suggested.

Jesse laughed, as if he had often heard that joke before. "Yes, I know," he said. "Well, we think that if one goes in for a competition, one might just as well win it. That seems sense, doesn't it?"

"You see," he went on, "the winner of a competition is everything—nobody else matters. The loser is just another fellow."

NO DIETING

"Who were the competitors, you fear most in Berlin?" I asked him.

"My own college mates were the toughest material I had to face. The others gave me no anxiety. If I could beat the Americans I knew I could beat the world."

Jesse is a non-smoker and a non-drinker, but so far as food is concerned he follows no dieting system. He would have liked to take a good look at London and England, he said, this being his first visit, but he had only a short time to spend here.

FOOTBALL DISPUTE SETTLED

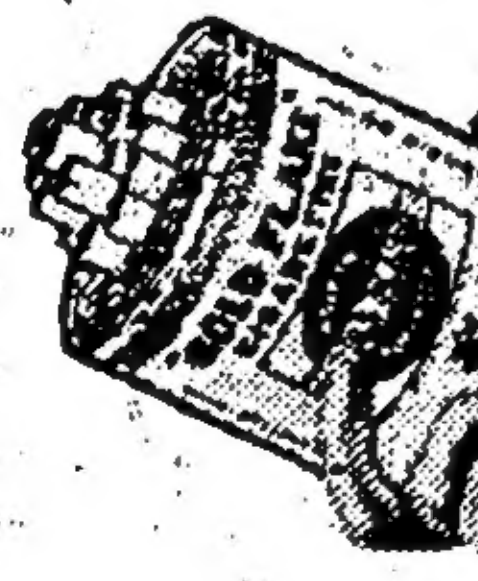

At a meeting of the Appeals Board of the Hong Kong Football Association (the Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo, Commander C. D. Arbuthnot and Mr. T. A. Are Menus Meaningless?

EPICUREAN ESPERANTO

WHAT CHEFS SAY IS SENSE

JUST A SOUPCON OF GARLIC—'MAIS OUT'

Who is there so brave and learned that he has not been daunted by a formal menu card? asks Dorothea Kahn in the "Christian Science Monitor." A scold of this, a ragout of that, and something else a la jardinière. Even if plain English is used to describe the main vegetable and, it appears, as good English potato instead of pomme de terre, there is still the risk that it may be followed by one of those troubling adjectives, such as julienne or lyonnaise. Ah me!

Why all this intricacy, one wonders. The answer is plain. The technical language of the chefs has simply found its way into the dining room, where it appears strange and difficult to the layman. But in the kitchen it is everyday speech. The chef uses it not to give aids and graces to his concoctions, as the menu makers are often accused of doing, but simply to convey to his helpers just what he wants to say.

KNOWS NO PARTICULAR COUNTRY

It is an international language, this culinary parlance. It has to be. Chefs are not all French by any means, contrary to the American stage characterization of them. Many are German, and there are Czechoslovak and Dutch and Swiss chefs and so on. Moreover, their helpers are of many nationalities, and these food experts are given to going from country to country in pursuit of their vocation. If there were not some universal language of the occupation, it would be difficult indeed for a chef to give orders to his staff.

This is just where kitchenese comes to the rescue. When a chef hands a helper a piece of beef and asks him to braise it, the assistant knows he means a particular cooking process which the American Webster, the French Larousse and other dictionary makers of different nationalities agree is to cook in a tightly covered pan over a slow fire.

MAKING THE MEAT JUMP

Or if the chef requests that the meat be sautéed, the helper, whether he comes from east or west of the Rhine, or even from middle western Kansas, knows that the technique required is to cook the meat quickly in a little hot fat while it is being frequently turned over. Sauter, of course, is French for jump, the skilled cook scorns to use a spoon to stir the meat in this process, but makes it "jump" by a quick flip of the pan.

Irish stew, strange as it seems, is a distinctly technical term, and an international one. No, an expression does not have to be French to qualify, but it may undergo strange transliterations in the effort of one nation to approximate the pronunciation to another. Alfred Fries, president of the Chicago branch of the International Cooks Association and a writer on the culinary art, reports having recognized Irish stew on a French menu card in a provincial city when he found it written "Arish stu."

STEW IS JUST STEW, BUT—

Getting back to technicalities, a stew is any food boiled slowly in a closed vessel. Now that sounds comfortably simple, but just wait a moment. There are stews and stews—and stews, each with a technical name of its own.

Ragout is one. It comes from the French ragotter, meaning to restore the appetite, and is supposed to be spicy. Salmis is another variety. It is a stew of duck, pheasant or game bird, already partly roasted before the stewing begins. Then there is goulash, the Hungarian version of the beef stew, highly seasoned; pilau, a Turkish interpretation; oyster and clam stew, a purely American variation; and—take a long breath before attempting this one, Pilchardstewer stew. The last is as German as its name, composed of three kinds of meat, veal, pork, and mutton, with cabbage, leeks, onion, and potato. It was named in honour of the barons of Pil-chenstein, who liked it, according to Mr. Fries.

LYONNAISE MEANS WITH ONIONS

One of the stumbling-blocks of the menu cards are those fancy words, jardinière, meunière, bourgeoise, lyonnaise, julienne. Simple, quite simple, to the technically trained. Jardinière means in the garden style, indicating the use of a variety of garden vegetables. Meunière means in the style of the miller's wife. (La meunière in French). She is supposed to have used flour with a free hand and her name is given to foods rolled in flour before cooking. Bourgeoise means "in brown gravy." Lyonnaise implies the use of onions, for Lyon, France, is a center of onion culture. Julienne means cut in small strips.

BUTTER AND FLOUR MAKE A ROUX

"Make me a roux," says the chef, and the helper hastens to stir together butter and flour over a slow fire, making a pasty mixture which is the basis of a white sauce, or thickening for a gravy. Roux comes from a French word meaning rasset coloured.

"Prepare a mirepoix." This is a clear order to a trained cook. He

Australia And Japanese Trade

The news from Japan that Manchukuo has decided to join with that country in limiting imports of Australia's principal products suggests that Japan is prepared to engage to the full in a tariff war with the Commonwealth. It will be recalled that some time ago Australia introduced new tariff measures on imported Japanese goods, a step which was greatly resented by Japan, and the present decision of Manchukuo, presumably at the instigation of Japan, is obviously aimed in retaliation. The Commonwealth policy so far as it affects trade with Japan has not met with unanimous approval throughout Australia. This was made clear some weeks ago by Sir Hal Colebatch, Agent-General for Western Australia. When speaking in London he emphasised the wide gulf that exists between Commonwealth tariff policy and West Australian interests, especially where the question of trade with Japan is concerned.

A WAY THEY HAVE IN THE NAVY

British warships, busy rescuing Britons from Spain, are not too busy to play.

News reached London on August 10 about a week-end visit by British destroyers to Bilbao, which is in anti-Red hands.

The ships sent a football team ashore and challenged the local Basque club to a match.

The Mayor of Bilbao looked on. Unfortunately the officer sending the report to London omitted to say what the result was.

cuts onions, carrots, parsley root, celery, and puts it in a pan with juices from cooked meat. If meat is being roasted, the mirepoix is placed in the pan with the meat, gives up its flavour to the juice, and is strained out before the gravy is served.

Most culinary measurements are fairly exact, and are given in the system of the country, pints, liters etc. But there is one measurement that is international. It is a "soupcon." It is the French word for "suspicion."

JUST IMAGINE THE GARLIC

"Add a soupcon of garlic," says the chef, his thumb and index finger touching by way of indicating the very slight amount to be used. The word is perfectly expressive. Garlic must never be detected in food. It should merely be suspected. Is it there, or isn't it? That is culinary ancestry.

NO TWO WAYS ABOUT IT,
IT'S THE SCOTCH.

BRITAIN AND EGYPT

Press Opinion On Treaty

London, Aug. 28.

Warm congratulations to the negotiators of the Anglo-Egyptian Treaty are offered in appreciative leading articles in the morning newspapers generally, although the "Daily Mail" and the "Morning Post" are critical.

The "Times" says the importance of the Treaty cannot be exaggerated, adding that the conversion of the uneasy, unequal and uncertain association of the last eighteen years into a friendly alliance between two equally independent sovereign States is a diplomatic success upon which both Governments and their representatives are to be warmly congratulated.

The "News Chronicle" says the Treaty is even more satisfactory than had been expected. The negotiators of both nations are to be congratulated on their wisdom and moderation.

The "Daily Herald" believes that mass opinion in both countries will be more than satisfied that the unhappy past can now be forgotten.

The "Daily Telegraph" refers to the Treaty as an alliance between two free nations.

The "Daily Mail," however, describes the Treaty as a blow to Empire security, while the "Morning Post" says: "Our worst anticipations are confirmed. The Treaty looks more like the beginning than the end of trouble."

FUTURE IN JEOPARDY

Apprehension Felt For Kowloon Golf Club

SHOOTING V. GOLF

The future of the Kowloon Golf Club is in jeopardy, judging by the remarks made by the President of the Club, Mr. H. H. Mundy yesterday at the annual general meeting held in the West Lounge of the European Y.M.C.A. Mr. Mundy was supported in the chair by Mr. A. J. Dennis, Captain of the Club, and Mr. W. Stoker, Hon. Secretary.

Referring to the use of the rifle range on each and every Wednesday by the newly formed Hong Kong Rifle Association, the President expressed his opinion that it "has been practically if not entirely responsible for the revenue diminution and the subsequent low balance of $2.04 in the income and expenditure account."

"I regret to say so," said Mr. Mundy, "but it is my view that to continue operating our Club on these restricted lines with our constant overhead charges will bring forth a repetition of similar bad results, as in the period under review, in the years to come."

LEAN YEAR'S WORKING

In explanation, the President continued: Our tenure of the ground over which we play golf is a matter which has become the paramount topic of conversation and debate among members and I feel it is now of so vital importance to members, and residents in Kowloon in general, that it will bear some amplification, and in order to clear up points which have been raised on the position, I will give, as briefly as I can, a history of this area of land now known as the Kowloon Rifle Range, but which the majority of us prefer to designate the Kowloon Golf Club.

In the year 1913 an agreement was entered into between the Colonial Government and the Military Authorities to put in proper order the tenure by the Military Authorities of the Kowloon Rifle Ranges—these ranges had been used by Military entirely since the year 1905. The site agreed upon for the Ranges is the area at present so occupied and as stated a formal agreement was entered into that year between the Hong Kong Government and the Military Authorities. I think I am right in saying that the agreement was binding on the Hong Kong Government over a certain number of years to refrain from any interference with the Military in their enjoyment of the Rifle Ranges.

On the termination of that period of years in 1920 the holding was, as now, on a yearly basis. I think I am also correct in stating that if the Military are required to remove from the Ranges at the Government's request, the Military Authorities have to be compensated for the outlay they made on the Ranges, and be provided with another suitable area for use as a Range. The agreement also contained a clause stating that the Range was to be used by regular troops, but that Volunteers would also be permitted to use the Range. So far as I can ascertain, the area was laid out as a rifle range and used fully as such until shortly after the war period.

PERMISSION IN 1924

Certain it is however, that when this Club was permitted to play golf over the ranges in 1924, these ranges were in a derelict and desolate condition.

Malaria was rampant, and the Military Authorities were disposed to, and in fact did, make application for an area in the Shing Mun District, and I can only assume that no transfer was made due to subsequent improvements made on the land by this Club.

However, to free the matter of this permission from all argument it was understood from the beginning that golfing facilities were to be subservient to the rifle shooting of regular soldiers and Volunteers.

In spite of a financial uphill fight, in which the Hong Kong Government kindly assisted with the donation of $5,000.00 (Sir Edward Stubbs was Governor at this time), the Club progressed and filled a long felt want to those who found it difficult and impossible to avail themselves of golfing facilities situated at an inconvenient distance from Kowloon to permit of afternoon or evening golf.

As the Club progressed so did it improve the ground over which its members were permitted to play. I think in all, including the expenditure on the Club House, that a sum of over $40,000.00 has been expended by this Club in the improvement of the area, and this has been of benefit not only to the Military Authorities but to the Colonial Government.

In 1925, owing to representations made by the Club, the then G.O.C. Major General Luard, retrained the Hong Kong Rifle League, a civilian association from using the range.

LOSS OF REVENUE

The loss of revenue, to which I referred in a previous part of my speech, I repeat, is in no small measure due to the curtailment of golfing facilities, on Wednesday afternoons, owing to the ranges being used for regular or other shootings.

The use of the ranges by regular troops could not be taken exception to, but when the ranges were allotted to the Hong Kong Rifle Association, also a civilian body, of which I understand a very low percentage of members is civilian, the matter was taken up by your Committee with both the Hong Kong Government and the Military Authorities.

From both these Authorities, your representatives had sympathetic hearings, but, Gentlemen, I submit that sympathy of itself is insufficient, and we must have something more tangible than an expression of compassion. Things have progressed no further than they were at the time when the Rifle Association commenced to upset the Wednesday afternoon's golf.

In the past we must admit to having received generous support from the various Officers Commanding the Troops who have sympathized with us in our restricted facilities. In the present circumstances, matters are unsatisfactory and with the definite addition of two battalions of troops, as notified latterly in the Press, which implies that increased range accommodation will be required, the future appears anything but rosy. In this connection I would respectfully suggest that Government be approached with a view to the extension of the ranges to the North-East in such a manner that, when in use, these would not interfere with golfing and incidentally permit of firing at all times by Military or Civil Bodies.

USE BY COURTESY ONLY

I want you definitely to understand that we are, and always have been, allowed the use of the Ranges for purposes of golf by courtesy of the Military Authorities and all we "possess," if such a word can be used, is a "Gentleman's Agreement" and our only hope is that the generous support I have just referred to will continue, and in this respect our thanks are particularly due to Colonel Harrison, G.S.O.1 for his sympathy towards us in the past.

I therefore feel it my duty to bring to your notice the possibilities of further restriction (owing to increased Military requirements) so that you can consider the matter with a view to giving your representatives some indication of the line of action you wish them to adopt.

I need hardly reiterate that the decline of a recreational Club such as this, will react strongly in Kowloon where there is at present a dire lack of playing field area for the civilian population.

I would suggest that you consider the formation of a small sub-committee, either to be decided on by this meeting, or by the General Committee which you are about to elect, with powers to approach Government with a view to ascertaining their attitude towards the provision of golfing

DR. SCHACHT'S VISIT

Press Outlines Benefits

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Berlin, August 28.

Dr. Schacht's visit to Paris affords the opportunity to continue the work begun in Berlin and strengthen the relations between the directors of the two institutes, says the semi-official "Diplomatische-Politische Korrespondenz."

Referring to the incident of the letter addressed to Premier Leon Blum by the Secretary General of the French Communist Party, the "Korrespondenz" expresses gratification that the Premier rejected the phrase that "the meeting with Schacht was not in conformity with the dignity of France," with the commendable statement that the will for peace was well in accordance with the dignity of France.

"Germany acknowledges the rejection of the obvious attempt to sabotage with all the greater satisfaction, since the Premier's view is in full accordance with the German People's attitude towards their western neighbour. By underlining that he is determined to proceed unhesitatingly on the way to reconciliation, the Premier attests that the visit of Dr. Schacht is a timely likewise serving this greater end, the realization of which is also sincerely desired by Germany."

facilities in Kowloon generally and this Club in particular.

CLUB ACTIVITIES

Dealing with the accounts and Club activities the President said in part: I would like to make a few observations and to review briefly the Club activities during the present year. In connection with the Playing Grounds Association, a notice was posted in the Club House inviting members to support this worthy object with subscription limited to $200. This appeal, I regret to say, did not receive the support anticipated, and it is to our worthy Hon. Secretary that the palm must be awarded for devising and formulating a prize draw to boost our small donation list. With the help of your Captains, various small gifts were begged from the various private firms with whom your Club transacts business, and these were raffled on a given date and no less than $123.00 was raised in this manner for the deserving cause. On behalf of your Committee I would express thanks for the manner in which the members rallied to support this worthy scheme.

New System

The amenities of your Club were further enhanced during the year under review, by the introduction of a system whereby members could purchase hot tiffins during the week ends. This introduction has proved a success and very much appreciated by all.

Ladies Section

Concerning the Ladies Section, facilities were made for them to entertain lady members from the Country Club and though our ladies were not very successful, I understand that a pleasant day was enjoyed by all. A further attempt was made by our feminine friends to stage a foursome competition, but I regret that this had to be abandoned owing to lack of support.

The year under review has not been one of the best in the Club's history for the ladies, as owing to further restriction on our playing time, by increasing use of the shooting ranges, their keenness has naturally diminished and the reflection is shown by no less than 28 resignations from lady members, during the current year.

Our thanks are again due to the Y.M.C.A. Authorities for granting your Committee the enclosure for holding their meetings.

Without these facilities, many meetings convened, would, I am sure, be dismissed for want of a quorum, and on behalf of your outgoing committee, I would register our appreciation.

CLUB'S FUTURE

Mr. Orchard, in discussion that followed before the adoption of the report, said that from what he understood by the President's remarks, the Club was in no sounder position than it was 12 years ago. If no definite assurances one way or the other was given by the authorities concerned, it would be best for the club to remove, as each successive year would see an increase in loss.

PHILIPPINE MINING NEWS

The latest addition to the growing number of mining companies is the Development and Mining Company of the Philippines, a two-million peso corporation registered with the bureau of commerce recently and backed by a group of prominent Manila capitalists. The authorized capital of P2,000,000 is divided into 20,000,000 shares at P.10 each, of which P450,000 worth of shares has been subscribed and P112,500 paid up. The original incorporators are Jorge L. Armeta, Rafael R. Alunan, Ramon S. Araneta, J. Amado Araneta, Assemblyman Pedro C. Hernandez, Bonifacio J. C. Montilla, Emilio Vibal and Aguedo Gonzaga. All of them are members of the board of directors, with the exception of Assemblyman Hernandez, Mr. Montilla and Mr. Gonzaga. These capitalists belong to the same group which formed the General Security and Investment Company, another two-million corporation which was registered by the bureau last July 21.

TIN COMMITTEE DECISION

London, Aug. 27.

Announcement of the further postponement of the International Tin Committee meeting is welcomed in London as offering a ray of hope for the continuance of the restriction scheme which the majority of producers desire to secure.

It is pointed out that the Committee would not have consented to defer the discussions unless Siam made proposals, however informal, holding out a reasonable chance for agreement.

NEWS FROM THE WATERFRONT

Freight and Asiatic Passengers Returns

(BY LONGSHOREMAN).

The freight returns, received from the Harbour Office during the 24 hours ended at 9.00 a.m. yesterday, showed a moderate tonnage movement.

The total tonnage of general cargo carried by vessels to the Colony was 6,824 tons, with British steamers carrying 1,162 tons.

Through cargo for ports beyond the Colony amounted to 19,800 tons, of which 4,937 tons were carried by British steamers.

Asiatic deck passengers entering into the Colony during the 24 hours ended at 9.00 a.m. yesterday were 1,076, of which 607 were from British steamers.

There were altogether eleven arrivals, of which four were of British registry, the remainder being of other nationalities, while of the twelve departures, five were British ships, the rest being of other different countries. Particulars as follows:—

| Nationality | Ships | Tonnage |
|-------------|-------|---------|
| British | 4 | 6,099 |
| American | 1 | 4,447 |
| Norwegian | 4 | 9,830 |
| Japanese | 2 | 6,118 |
| Total | 11 | 26,494 |
